Stainless Steel

Construction

First quality materials and brands

We use stainless steel in the construction of every truck we build. This material ensures durability and helps to keep your mobile kitchen clean as required by local authorities.

We understand your truck is your investment and we want your truck to last to generate the revenue that it was intended for. At your request we will install the brands you choose and prefer as long as they meet the safety requirements. We work with different brands to offer you the best prices in the market. From refrigerators to generators. Everything in one place, Kareem Carts.

We build trucks to last
